SUNTECK PROVIDES SUPPORT DURING HURRICANE SEASON

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

September 29, 2008 – Boca Raton, Fla. – Sunteck Transport Group, a non-asset based provider of transportation services, has provided logistics support during the busy 2008 hurricane season.

Through its independent agent network, Sunteck has provided transportation services for movements of bottled water and ice into the U.S. Southeast and Southwest in support of preparation and relief efforts during recent hurricanes and tropical storms Fay, Gustav, Hanna and – most recently – Ike.

“Our carriers have logged countless miles and hours so far this year as part of this important work,” said Mike Williams, chief operating officer, Sunteck Transport Group. “We continue on ready alert with another month remaining in what has become a very active hurricane season.”

Agents for Sunteck have a long and established record of providing service to various agencies of the U.S government, and manufacturers who provide products to those agencies. They have coordinated disaster relief and DoD shipments throughout the Western Hemisphere for the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS), Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), the U.S. Department of Defense (DoD) and various other federal and state government, quasi-government and private agencies.

“It’s too soon to tell if our 2008 efforts will mirror those of other hurricane seasons, but our agents have the experience to handle most any challenge that we might face from a natural disaster,” Williams added.
